Instrument of the Month

The modern marimba was developed in quetzaltenango Guatemala from the diatonic marimba, an instrument whose ancestor was first made by African slaves in Central America. Made of wooden bars with resonators underneath, the marimba produces the fullest sound when its keys are struck just off center.

MUSIC AND DANCE NEWS

👁 DID YOU KNOW...

Students of the SJSU Choraliers sang with the Rolling Stones in Oakland and San José for their 50th Anniversary Tour.

Brian Belet's composition Summer Phantoms: Nocturne, for piano and computer processed sounds (2011), was recently performed at the following venues: Society for Electro-Acoustic Music in the United States 2013 national conference in St. Paul, Minnesota in April; New York City Electroacoustic Music Festival in New York City in April; and Boston pianist Keith Kirchoff's concert tours, which took place in Minnesota, Georgia, Michigan, and the UK from February to April.

Galen Lemmon (Percussion) twice recorded with the Skywalker Orchestra, performed with San Francisco Symphony at the America's Cup Pavillion, performed at Cabrillo Festival of Contemporary Music, and hosted a percussion camp here at SJSU.

Gwendolyn Mok (Head of Piano Studies) gave the World Premiere of Brent Heisinger's (SJSU alumnus) Piano Concerto EKTA II with the San José Chamber Orchestra in January, when New Brahms CD was released. The Historic Keyboard Room for students, visitors, and faculty was set up, and $5000 was raised for the Historic Keyboard Fund to curate the instruments in the School of Music. Dr. Mok was the featured speaker at the 2012 MTAC Annual Convention in Santa Clara Hyatt and Convention Center.

Aaron Lington (Head of Jazz Studies) appeared as a performing artist for Selmer Saxophones (the top saxophone manufacturer in the world). He headlined at the Halifax, Nova Scotia Jazz Festival with his group, The Bicoastal Collective. He played saxophone for Johnny Mathis and the San Francisco Symphony, and he was nominated in the Downbeat Magazine Reader's Poll in the Outstanding Baritone Saxophonist Category.

Tom Hornig (Trombone) performed Enrique Crespo's Improvisation No. 1 for solo trombone at the Norfolk Chamber Music Festival in Norfolk, CT; was principal trombone for the world premiere performances of Mark Adamo's "Gospel of Mary Magdalene" at the San Francisco Opera in June; and soon after performed Stravinsky's L'Histoire du Soldat in the Vineyard Chamber Music Festival.

Keith Pinto (Hip Hop Dance Instructor) starred as Don Lockwood in Singin' In The Rain with Diablo Theater Company at The Dean Leshner Center for the Performing Arts, followed by the role of Oscar in Sweet Charity at Center Rep. He will play the role of Roger Sherman in 1776 with A.C.T. at The Geary Theater in San Francisco.

Layna Chianakas (Voice Area Coordinator, Director of Opera Theater), a Verdi "Requiem" mezzo soprano with Symphony Silicon Valley, directed SJSU Opera Theater's full production of The Marriage of Figaro in Italian with orchestra. This fall, she will direct Hansel and Gretel for Opera San José.

Joseph Frank (School Director) will sing the role of Pong in Turandot for Hawaii Opera Theater in October.

Hagé van Dijk (Music Technology) finished a project for Apple resulting in the release of Logic Pro X. He was involved with the new Drummer feature, audio Smart Controls and the Logic Remote application, integrating audio production with touch sensitive devices that lets users work faster and more in the style of the techniques developed using analog equipment. This represents a shift in the way musicians interact with computing devices.
